Objective

To deliver capital growth over the long term (that is, over five years or more).

Investment policy

At least 70% of the Fund is invested in shares of companies from anywhere in the world that operate in basic industries, such as agriculture and manufacturing, and also in companies that service these industries. Derivatives may be used to reduce risk, minimise costs and generate additional capital and/or income. Derivatives are financial instruments whose value is linked to the expected future price movements of an underlying asset.

- The above risk number is based on the rate at which the value of the Fund has moved up and down in the past. It may not be a reliable indicator of the future risk profile of the Fund.
- The risk number shown is not guaranteed and may change over time.
- The lowest risk number does not mean risk free.

The main risks that could affect performance are set out below:

- The value of investments and the income from them will fluctuate. This will cause the fund price to fall as well as rise. These fluctuations may be more extreme in periods of market disruption and other exceptional events. There is no guarantee the fund objective will be achieved and you may not get back the original amount you invested.
- Currency exchange rate fluctuations will impact the value of your investment.
- There may be times when the Fund's portfolio is more concentrated in specific regions, strategies or sectors, which means the Fund may be more exposed to the market sentiment of those areas.
- In difficult market conditions the value of certain fund investments may be less predictable than normal and, in some cases, this may make such investments harder to sell at the last quoted market price, or at a price considered to be fair.
- The fund manager will place transactions (including derivative transactions), hold positions and place cash on deposit with a range of counterparties (institutions). There is a risk that counterparties may default on their obligations or become insolvent.

A more detailed description of the risk factors that apply to the Fund can be found in the Fund's Prospectus.
